University of Essex

Online

Feedback for RRMP Research Proposal Presentation [Formative]

Tutor completing formative feedback: Karen Outram	Student number: Mario Butorac
Details of any extensions etc:	Submission Attempt: Formative

Thank you for submitting your formative.

For the formative the word count was 500 words; so there is parity for all students who submitted, I have read the first 500 words of the 1123 words written. This takes me up to slide 5 and the (Kumar et al.,) reference, [I haven't included your title in the word count checked, just from slide 1 onwards]. At the beginning of the summative remember to introduce yourself, where you are studying, what you are studying and which summative this is in the module. After that you can get into the actual discussion, [please refer to unit 10 to gain full guidance on the suggested layout of the summative].

When creating your final transcript make sure your paragraphs are broken down, [I discussed this in your Literature Review feedback]. Don't use lengthy blocks of writing, break the content down into evenly weighted paragraphs, [we also discussed this in tutorial], I am referring to the content in Slide 1 of your formative here in particular.

Taking the content up to the beginning of slide 5, you are looking at strengths and limitations of the discussion. Ensure that this occurs all the way through the summative when you come to submit the summative. The actual summative is 15 minutes long and so before submission please check that the final content is 15 minutes long and that there is a good and varied level of research resources from different researchers to thoroughly reflect the strengths and limitations of your subject. Don't rely on the same authors over and over through the whole content, source diverse research from different authors.

Your research references for this formative are current and that is appropriate. Please take this approach in the summative.

General advice to all students:
Remember to cite on your power presentation, in your transcript and also orally cite in your oral presentation for this summative. Ensure that you have a long list of references in alphabetical order on your power at the end of the presentation and at the end of your transcript. Please refer to seminar 5 if you are unsure about any of these details.

This comment is added to every student formative feedback sheet: Please ensure that when you complete your summative submission for the Research Proposal Presentation, that the research, content and context is COMPLETELY DIFFERENT to your Literature Review. This is for several reasons; you need to avoid self-plagiarism, [if content is close to or similar to the Literature Review TURNITIN will detect this], a summative can only be graded once and so if your LT and RPP are too similar theoretically it is the same piece of work and summative academic work has to 'build' upon research so that every summative submission is different from the previous summative submission. This is a standard academic rule in all academic writing/summative submission. And so, you can 'build' upon your subject from the Literature Review to the Research Proposal Presentation, but it MUST be different from the Literature Review.

The burden of ensuring each summative is 'new' rests with the student, and so please do observe the above when completing all summative submissions, thank you.

Please also ensure that you engage with critical analysis in your content, and you debate a 'pros' and 'cons' perspective for your research, in your RPP summative.

Wishing you the best of luck now for your actual summative submission,

With best wishes

Karen