Criteria and weighting	Level	Comments
Knowledge and understanding of the topic/ issues under consideration (30%) To provide an overview of current knowledge on the chosen topic	Very good	There is some very good knowledge demonstrated in your content. The summative does have a logical flow and it does move from one point of discussion to another to guide the viewer through the context, using theoretical underpinning which is appropriate. There are some areas of the assignment that are a little repetitive and touch on a similar subject more than once. I feel a little more time planning would help in these instances.
Criticality (30%) To highlight similar and contrasting views on your chosen topic	Very good	There is discussion about the strengths and weaknesses in the context of the summative which is appropriate. For future summative, ensure that your paragraphs are broken down to denote the end of one part of the discussion and the beginning of the next part. The majority of the assignment is written in one block, and this makes its difficult to track where one part of the discussion begins and another one ends.
Use of relevant sources (20% To demonstrate an awareness of relevant, current literature	Very good	Very good use of relevant research resources, with the majority of the content showing targeted research. Just be mindful that all word count is used to represent cross-sectional research that moves from one point to another, and that the content is truly varied using different points of research. As already discussed, some content was repetitive and so do bear this in mind for future.
Structure and Presentation (as detailed in the assessment guidance) (10%) To showcase your research and writing skills.	Satisfactory	The structure and presentation of your assignment could push up to the 'very good' category if your broke your paragraphs down. Currently the assignment, aside from a couple of paragraph breaks looks like one long written piece. We did discuss this point in live seminars. You need to break the assignment down to show an evenly weighted discussion. Please consider this point moving forward for other summative. This is a satisfactory outcome here.

Academic integrity (10%) To showcase your research and writing skills.	Very Good	Your writing skills, use of citation and content overall are very good. There is a sense however that applying the content to your word document was rushed, due to the lack of breaking the content down, as mentioned in other outcomes. Please do focus on this aspect moving forward to other summative.
Overall
Positives: • Overall a very good outcome • With regular citation applied • It is clear that research has taken place
Points for development: • The content was more or less written as a complete block of writing • This makes it difficult to see where one point of the assignment ends and another one starts • This is likely due to a lack of time management and so do bear this point in mind for future summative
